Guidance Notes

Marks and Degree Class Awarded

Marks are awarded for each module listed, expressed as a percentage, and credit is awarded according to the relative weighting assigned to the module. Marks achieved over a student's course (often, but not necessarily exclusively, based on the final two years of study) are combined according to examination conventions (which may vary from course to course) by a Board of Examiners which then determines the overall class of degree to be awarded.

In some cases (e.g. modern languages) module codes/titles given overleaf may not be identical to those for which a student originally registered; this is because those overleaf reflect the ways in which the academic departments concerned treat marks from different assessments for presentation to Boards of Examiners.

For some modules the following may be recorded instead of a numerical mark:

P (Pass)

F (Failed)

A (indicates the student was absent from the examination for non-medical reasons)

M (indicates the student was absent from the examination for medical reasons and the absence has been condoned by the Board of Examiners)

The following classes of degree are awarded at undergraduate level:

First Class (which appears as 1st Class Hons)

Upper Second Class (which appears as 2(i) Hons)

Lower Second Class (which appears as 2(ii)Hons)

Third Class (which appears as 3rd Class Hons)

Pass (which appears as Pass Degree)

Level

For undergraduate students, "Level" under "Modules Studied" overleaf refers to the academic level assigned to the particular module.

Credit load

The normal credit load for a full-time undergraduate student is 120 credits per year (however, there may be some variation in the credit total depending on which option modules a student selects and/or the degree course they are on). Some students following degrees in the Faculty of Science are permitted to take a heavier load if they wish and the additional modules they study are fully taken into account in the final degree awarded (this is not permitted in all departments). The results from other modules not counting towards final degree classification may also be recorded on a supplementary page.

Resits

Where a student has been required to resit a module, the mark is followed by R. Although the student may have achieved a better grade in the resit, the original mark for the module is also recorded on the transcript (and in most cases it is the original mark which will count towards degree credit).

Professional Placements

Credit may be awarded for professional placements taken as part of a degree programme. Where this is the case the total credits awarded in a year of study is shown. Further details of these placements are available from the student's home department.

Accreditation of Prior Learning

For some Warwick degrees, particularly part-time undergraduate courses, students may be awarded credit for study undertaken prior to enrolling at the University. Where credit has been awarded in this way, the module title is given as "Prior Learning Credit" and there is no figure in the Result column.

Professional or Statutory Body Accreditation

Where a course is accredited by a Professional or Statutory Body and the student has met the requirements for the relevant professional award (or exemption from elements of professional qualifications), this is indicated.

Warwick Skills Certificate

Various skills modules are offered to students (on a voluntary basis) by the University's Centre for Lifelong Learning and can lead to a University Certificate award. Students successfully completing any module will have demonstrated both theoretical knowledge and especially the practical application of the skills involved.

About the University of Oxford

The University of Oxford is an independent self-governing university. It is the oldest university in the English-speaking world and has been in continuous existence for some nine centuries. University of Oxford Transcripts

The transcript should not be released to another person, organisation or institution except to officials internal to your own organisation or institution who have a reasonable business use for the information. Release to other parties requires the written consent of the student. The following information is provided to aid in the evaluation of this student's academic record. Further explanation or detailed information can be obtained by contacting Degree Conferrals at the above address.

Under University regulations, Boards of Examiners may, where appropriate, take account of information additional to the profile of marks listed overleaf in deciding the final degree classification awarded to any student.

The explanatory text on the transcript is subject to change until such time that the programme of study is completed.

Academic Credit

The University does not routinely apply credit weightings to its programmes and its courses are not taught on a modular basis. We take each year of full-time undergraduate study to equal 120 UK credits and 180 UK credits for postgraduate study according to the Higher Education Credit Framework for England. In relation to the European Credit Transfer Scheme (ECTS), this is equivalent to 60 credits for undergraduate study and 60-90 credits for postgraduate study.

Framework for Higher Education Qualifications (FHEQ levels)

D (Doctoral) / 8	Doctor Degrees (e.g. PhD, DPhil)
M (Masters) / 7	Master's Degrees
